HISTORY OF BROWN UNIVERSITY

A GENERATION before the establishment of any institution of higher education in Rhode Island, Dean (afterwards Bishop) Berkeley, in pursuance of his cherished design of planting a Christian college in America, chose this colony as his place of residence. Here, at Newport or in its vicinity, he lived for nearly three years, from 1729 to 1731. At the close of this period it became evident that the money which had been voted for the project by the House of Commons would not be paid, and Berkeley reluctantly abandoned his project and returned to England. Though he had no direct relation to the college afterwards established, yet he inspired an interest in higher education among the colonists and thus made easier the success of the later undertaking.

In 1762 the Philadelphia Baptist Association, in view of the disabilities attaching to Baptist students in most of the existing American colleges, welcomed a proposal offered by the Reverend Morgan Edwards, a clergyman of Welsh birth, at that time pastor of the First Baptist Church in Philadelphia, to found in Rhode Island a college that should be under the control of their own denomination. James Manning, who had just been graduated from Princeton, was appointed by the Association as its agent to establish "a seminary of polite literature subject to the government of the Baptists."

In deciding upon the location of the new college, a canvass of the colonies had shown the advantages to be clearly on the side of Rhode Island, which recognized absolute religious liberty, and was, moreover, a Baptist colony in origin and popular attachment. There was no rival institution in the field; and the important cities of Newport and Providence, the former being the second city in New England, furnished an encouraging prospect of future support. Accordingly, in 1764, the friends of the movement obtained from the General Assembly the charter which still remains in force. Although, under the rules of the charter, the President and a majority of both the Fellows and the Trustees must be Baptists, the three important positions of Chancellor, Secretary, and Treasurer are without denominational restriction, and all religious tests and sectarian instruction are strictly prohibited. The institution was known during the first forty years of its existence as Rhode Island College.

As the College was at the beginning without funds, and only a scanty return could be expected from students' fees, it was necessary that the president should support himself and his family by some other means. The founding of a Baptist church in Warren and the call of Mr. Manning to its pastorate offered a solution of the difficulty; and hither Mr. Manning brought his family in the spring of 1764. His first act towards the establishment of a college was the opening of a Latin school. This preparatory school was later removed with the College to Providence, where it flourished for a hundred and forty years under the name of the University Grammar School. At the second meeting of the Corporation, September 4, 1765, Mr. Manning was formally appointed "president of the College, professor of languages and other branches of learning;" the first student had been matriculated the day before. In the following year David Howell was appointed tutor, but no other addition was made to the Faculty until 1774. In 1769 the first class (of seven members) was graduated at Warren. This town had not generally been regarded as the permanent seat of the College, and the necessity which now arose of erecting a college building compelled a final choice of location. After a spirited contest for the honor among the leading towns of the colony, the choice fell upon Providence. Here in 1770 the first college building, the present University Hall, modeled after Nassau Hall at Princeton, and a house for the president were both built on the college grounds, the cost being covered by subscriptions, chiefly from residents of Providence.

In 1771 President Manning was called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Providence; he served the church in this capacity, in addition to his college duties, from that date until the close of his life. In December, 1776, the work of the College was interrupted by the Revolutionary War, and it was not resumed until the fall of 1782, University Hall being used meanwhile as a barrack and hospital for the combined American and French troops. Upon the reorganization of the College important additions were made to the library and the philosophical apparatus. The first college funds, amounting to $4500, were collected in England and Ireland by the Reverend Morgan Edwards in 1767-8. In the next two years the Reverend Hezekiah Smith obtained subscriptions amounting to $2500 in South Carolina and Georgia. The former contribution was made a permanent fund; the latter was expended in the construction of the college buildings. Further gifts were received for a time from the Philadelphia, Charleston, and Warren Baptist Associations, but they appear to have ceased with the outbreak of the Revolutionary War. In 1791, after twenty-nine years of service as founder and director of Rhode Island College, President Manning died. The College had become firmly established, with a graduate roll of one hundred and forty-nine; the last graduating class, that of 1790, had numbered twenty-two. At the time of his death the Faculty consisted of the president, four professors, and two tutors. The discipline during this period had been strict and paternal, the officers of instruction living under the same roof with the students and making frequent visits of inspection to their rooms. President Manning at first taught all the branches studied, but was designated professor of languages, afterwards of moral philosophy. David Howell, his assistant, taught mathematics and natural philosophy, and is said to have taught also French, German, and Hebrew. He was appointed professor of natural philosophy in 1769, and of law in 1790, but never taught the latter subject. Benjamin Waterhouse was appointed professor of natural history in 1784; and Benjamin West, professor of mathematics and astronomy in 1786.

The successor of President Manning was the Reverend Jonathan Maxcy, a graduate in the class of 1787, who had been professor of divinity 1791-2. He served from 1792 until 1802, when he resigned his office to accept the presidency of Union College. During the last year of his administration at Rhode Island College a class numbering twenty-eight was graduated.

The third president of the College, the Reverend Asa Messer, a graduate in the class of 1790, who had served as professor of learned languages 1796-9, and of mathematics and natural philosophy 1799-1802, directed the affairs of the institution from 1802 until his resignation in 1826. During his presidency of twenty-four years the College was greatly expanded. A class numbering forty-eight was graduated in 1825, the Faculty in that year consisting of the president, nine professors, and two tutors. A medical school was established, which existed from 1811 until 1828 and sent out eighty-seven graduates. The special professorships created for the medical school were: materia medica and botany, 1811; anatomy and surgery, 1811; chemistry, 1811; theory and practice of medicine, 1815. A professor of moral philosophy and metaphysics was appointed in 1811; one of oratory and belles-lettres in 1815; and one of the Latin and Greek languages and literature in 1825. In 1826 the permanent funds of the University amounted to $31,300.

In 1792 Nicholas Brown, a graduate in the class of 1786, gave $500 with which to purchase law books for the Library. In 1804 he endowed a professorship of oratory and belles-lettres. In the same year the name of the institution was changed in his honor to Brown University. In 1822 Mr. Brown built Hope College at his own expense, and in 1840 Manning Hall and the second president's house. The last-named building has been used since 1899 as a refectory. The total value of Mr. Brown's various gifts to the University was not less than $160,000. Mr. Brown also served the University in a most efficient way as treasurer 1796-1825. He was trustee 1791-1825, and fellow from 1825 until his death in 1841.

The fourth president, the Reverend Francis Wayland, entered upon his official duties in 1827. He at once raised the standard of scholarship and gradually increased the scope of the instruction. He finally accomplished an entire reorganization of the University on the basis of the elective principle. In accordance with this "New System," the bachelor's degree was given for a three years' course and the master's degree for a four years' course. Graduate study and special study were both encouraged; and the sciences, in accordance with the spirit of the charter, were made prominent in the curriculum. This system was not put into operation until 1850, and was fully in force only until his retirement five years later. The increase in the scope of the curriculum during President Wayland's administration is clearly shown in the following list of subjects to which professors or instructors were assigned at the dates annexed: chemistry, physiology, and geology, 1834; moral and intellectual philosophy, 1834; belles-lettres, 1835; rhetoric, 1837; Hebrew literature, 1838; modern languages and literature, 1843; Greek, 1843; Latin, 1844; French, 1844; history and political economy, 1850; natural philosophy and civil engineering, 1850; chemistry applied to the arts, 1850; rhetoric and English literature, 1851; didactics (i. e., pedagogy), 1851; analytical chemistry, 1854. The influence of President Wayland was felt, not in an increase of the number of students, but in an elevation of the intellectual and moral tone of the institution. Discipline, which had grown lax, was strictly enforced. During his administration the college grounds were laid out, and the Library was placed on a sound financial basis. Rhode Island Hall was erected in 1840 from subscriptions by Rhode Island men and women. The permanent funds were increased to $200,000. Dr. Wayland resigned the presidency in 1855, having won for the University, by his fame as a writer, thinker, and educational reformer, an enviable distinction both at home and abroad.

The fifth president of the University, the Reverend Barnas Sears, a graduate in the class of 1825, held office from 1855 until 1867, when he resigned the presidency to become general agent of the Peabody Education Fund. During his incumbency the only new subject added to the curriculum was physical geography, in 1864. Although the term of President Sears covered the financial crisis of 1857 and the Civil War, a notable increase was made both in the funds and in the number of students. A system of scholarships was established, and over $220,000 was collected in subscriptions. The Chemical Laboratory was built in 1862. In the last class that entered under President Sears seventy-three students were enrolled. Three hundred graduates and students of Brown entered the Union service, 1861-5. Of these twenty-one laid down their lives.

The Reverend Alexis Caswell, a graduate in the class of 1822, was the sixth president of the University, his term covering the years 1868-72. Under his administration the department of physics was organized, and the endowment was increased from $365,000 to a sum exceeding $550,000.

Upon the resignation of Dr. Caswell, the Reverend Ezekiel Gilman Robinson, a graduate in the class of 1838, became president. Dr. Robinson's presidency extended over the seventeen years 1872-1889. This period was marked by a further increase in the attendance, the class of 1889 being graduated with a membership of fifty-six. The following subjects were added to the curriculum, or were emphasized by the appointment of separate instructors: special branches of agriculture, 1872; zoölogy and agriculture, 1874; physiology, 1874; botany, 1877; zoölogy and geology, 1878; elocution, 1880; astronomy, 1884; logic, 1886; history, 1888; political economy, 1888. The funds were increased to $980,000, and important additions were made to the buildings. Rhode Island Hall was enlarged in 1875. The Library, the gift of John Carter Brown, of the class of 1816, was built in 1878, and Slater Hall, the gift of Horatio Nelson Slater, in 1879. Sayles Hall, the gift of William Francis Sayles, a memorial to his son, William Clark Sayles, a member of the class of 1878, was built in 1881. University Hall, which had been renovated in 1850, was again renovated in 1883. Dr. Robinson recognized the fact that a great opportunity for a university existed at Brown, and, though he was not able fully to realize his purposes, he prepared the way for the great enlargement of the institution under his successor. Besides the addition of various courses, a beginning was made in systematic graduate instruction. Dr. Robinson resigned the presidency in 1889.

The eighth president of the University was the Reverend Elisha Benjamin Andrews, a graduate in the class of 1870. With his accession in 1889 the modern life of the University properly begins. In the year preceding his presidency three graduate students were enrolled; in the last year of his term of service the graduate students numbered 101, the total number of students for the same years being, respectively, 268 and 860. The officers of instruction for the corresponding years increased in number from twenty-two to seventy-three. All the old departments were expanded, and the number of departments was increased from sixteen in 1889-90 to twenty-five in 1897-8. The department of philosophy was enlarged by the addition of psychology and pedagogy. American and European history were assigned to separate professors, and political economy was made a department. The departments of Greek literature and history, Roman literature and history, English literature and language, Germanic languages and literatures, and Romance languages and literatures were reorganized and extended. Rhetoric and oratory were made an independent department. The departments of mathematics, mechanical engineering, astronomy, physics (including electrical engineering), chemistry, zoölogy, geology, and anthropology, and botany were extended in scope and thoroughness. New departments were formed for the subjects of social and political science including law, fine arts including the history of art and music, Indo-European philology, Biblical literature and history including the Semitic languages and New Testament Greek, mechanical drawing, civil engineering, comparative anatomy, military science and tactics, and bibliography.

The museum of fine arts was founded in 1889, and that of anthropology in 1891. The funds were increased to $1,125,685, and important additions were made to the buildings and grounds. In 1891 Hope College was renovated; Wilson Hall, the bequest of George Francis Wilson, was built; the Ladd Observatory was presented to the University by the Honorable Herbert W. Ladd; and the Lyman Gymnasium, named in honor of its principal donor, was erected. Maxcy Hall was built in 1895. Three buildings, known as the Howell, Messer, and Brown Street houses were also secured for dormitory purposes. The old playground of the University, now known as Lincoln Field, was graded and fitted up for ball-games and other athletic purposes in 1889. In 1898 a new athletic field was laid out on Camp Street, a mile and a half from the University. In 1891 the Grand Army of the Republic Fellowship Fund of $10,000 was given to the University by the Rhode Island Department of that organization.

The Women's College was founded in October, 1891. At first only the privileges of University examinations and certificates of proficiency were granted. In June, 1892, all the College and University degrees and the graduate courses were opened to women. In November, 1897, the institution was accepted by the Corporation and officially designated the Women's College in Brown University. The immediate charge of this department, as of all others in the University, is in the hands of the Corporation. All instruction is given by members of the University Faculty. Pembroke Hall, which was built by the Rhode Island Society for the Collegiate Education of Women, was formally transferred to the University in October, 1897, and was accepted as the recitation hall of the Women's College.

In 1898 Dr. Andrews resigned the presidency to become Superintendent of Schools in Chicago. Dr. Benjamin Franklin Clarke, the senior member of the Faculty, who had served as president pro tempore during the absence of Dr. Andrews in Europe in 1896-7, was appointed president ad interim, and served during the academic year 1898-9.

The ninth president of the University is the Reverend William Herbert Perry Faunce, a graduate in the class of 1880, who entered upon his official duties on Commencement Day, 1899. At Commencement, 1900, announcement was made of an addition of over a million dollars to the endowment of the University. To this was added a year later a second million, including the endowment of the John Carter Brown Library. In 1900 the Slater Memorial Homestead was presented by Mrs. Horatio N. Slater, as a home for the students of the Women's College. In 1901 the president's house was erected at the corner of Hope and Manning streets. In 1902 the Van Wickle Administration Building was completed, this structure as well as the gates opposite being the bequest of Augustus Stout Van Wickle, of the class of 1876. In 1904 Rockefeller Hall, the gift of John D. Rockefeller, was opened for the use of the Brown Union, a social organization of students and alumni which was formed in that year. The building is provided with a maintenance fund raised by subscription. In the same year the Engineering Building, on Lincoln Field, Caswell Hall, a dormitory fronting on Thayer Street, and the Colgate Hoyt swimming-pool, the gift of Colgate Hoyt, were erected, and a great organ, the gift of Lucian Sharpe, of the class of 1893, was placed in Sayles Hall. In 1904 the John Nicholas Brown Gate was built as a memorial to the late John Nicholas Brown by his widow. In the same year the Carrie Tower, a clock tower, erected by Paul Bajnotti, of Turin, to the memory of his wife, Carrie Mathilde Brown, was presented to the University. Since 1901 an iron fence with brick and stone posts has been built around the front and the middle campus, each section having been contributed by or in memory of some class. The classes of 1872, 1884, and 1887 have contributed gates. In the summer of 1905 the exterior of University Hall was restored to its original appearance at the expense of Marsden J. Perry. In April, 1905, the funds of the University, exclusive of those pertaining to the John Carter Brown Library, amounted to $2,988,866.

The Library of the University dates from 1767, when the Reverend Morgan Edwards collected books for it in England. The collection was at first kept in University Hall. It was removed to Manning Hall upon the completion of that building in 1835. In 1842 it contained ten thousand volumes, and in 1878, the date of its transference to the present building, it numbered forty-eight thousand volumes. The present number, including the books in the twelve department libraries, but not including the John Carter Brown Library, is about one hundred and forty thousand volumes. Upon the removal of the College to Providence in 1770 the professors and students enjoyed the hospitality of the Providence Library Company, now the Athenaeum, in extension of the scanty resources of the College Library. The Library of the Rhode Island Historical Society and the State Law Library have in later years been most valuable adjuncts to the University Library; and, since the opening of the Providence Public Library in 1878, members of the University have made constant use of its choice and readily available resources. The Library Fund, established under President Wayland, has been supplemented by ten special funds, devoted to the departments of European history, United States history, mediaeval and church history, botany, the arts of design, biology, the classical languages and literatures, English literature, and American poetry. Gifts of one thousand dollars each were made to the Library in recent years by the classes of 1872, 1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, and 1888, and were of material assistance towards enabling the Library to meet the ever-growing demands made upon it by the work of the University. In 1884, by the will of the Honorable Henry B. Anthony, the Library came into possession of the Harris Collection of American Poetry numbering five thousand volumes, since increased to seven thousand. In 1901 there was presented to the University the John Carter Brown Library, unquestionably the most complete collection in the world on the history of the two Americas down to the end of the eighteenth century. The books were accompanied by gifts of $500,000 as an endowment and $150,000 for the erection of a building for their accommodation. The building was dedicated in May, 1904. In October, 1903, the University received by the gift of Marsden J. Perry the Sidney S. Rider Collection of manuscripts, books, and other material, forming a library of the first importance to students of the history of Rhode Island.

At the close of the one hundred and thirty-seventh Commencement of the University in 1905, there were enrolled the names of 6,077 graduates,—5,737 men and 338 women. Of this number 5,421 had received the College or University first degree; 86, exclusive of the foregoing, had received advanced degrees; 69, not previously reckoned, had received the degree of Doctor of Medicine; 601 others had received honorary degrees. Of the entire number, 3,274, or fifty-four per cent., were living.

A LETTER from Mr. Nicholas Brown, dated on this present day, having been read in the following words, to—wit:

Gentlemen:

PROVIDENCE, September 6, 1804.

IT is known to you that I have long had an attachment to this institution as the place where my deceased brother Moses and myself received our education. This attachment derives additional strength from the recollection that my late honored Father was among the earliest, and most zealous patrons of the College; and is confirmed by my regard to the cause of Literature in general. Under these impressions I hereby make a donation of Five Thousand Dollars to Rhode Island College, to remain in perpetuity as a fund for the establishment of a Professorship of Oratory and Belles Lettres. The money will be paid next Commencement and is to be vested in such funds as the Corporation shall direct for its augmentation to a sufficiency in your judgment to produce a competent annual Salary for the within mentioned Professorship.

I am very respectfully, Gentlemen, with my best wishes for the prosperity of the College, your obedient friend,

NICHOLAS BROWN.

All applications for such examinations must be addressed to the Secretary of the College Entrance Examination Board, Post Office Sub-Station 84, New York, and must be made upon a blank form to be obtained from the Secretary of the Board upon application. Applications for examination at points in the United States east of the Mississippi River, also at Minneapolis, St. Louis, and other points on the Mississippi River, must be received by the Secretary of the Board on or before Monday, June 4, 1906; applications for examination elsewhere in the United States or in Canada must be received on or before Monday, May 28, 1906; and applications for examination outside the United States and Canada must be received on or before Monday, May 14, 1906. Applications received later than the dates named will be accepted when it is possible to arrange for the examinations of the candidates concerned, but only upon the payment of $5.00 in addition to the usual examination fee.

2. ADMISSION BY CERTIFICATE

Students are admitted upon presentation of a certificate signed by the principal of any school which has the privilege of issuing certificates to Brown University.

Principals of schools in New England who desire the certificate privilege for Brown University, or for any of the colleges represented on the New England College Entrance Certificate Board, should address the Secretary of the Board, Professor Nathaniel F. Davis, 159 Brown Street, Providence, R. I., who will furnish the necessary application blanks. These blanks must be returned to him before April 1 of the year for which the certificate privilege is desired.

The principals of schools situated outside of New England who desire the certificate privilege must make application to the Registrar before May 1, and furnish satisfactory evidence that the course of study in the school meets the requirements for admission. Blank forms for this purpose will be supplied on request. Certificates from the New York Board of Regents are accepted for the specified subjects so far as they coincide with the entrance requirements of Brown University.

Certificates are accepted for admission to the Freshman class only, not for admission to advanced standing. If any candidate offers subjects in excess of those required for admission he may be examined in them at the times scheduled above and receive credit for them as college studies.

Blank forms for the certification of candidates may be obtained from the Registrar by the principals of schools on the accredited list. These forms should be filled out and returned to him by July 1. ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS IN THE SEVERAL SUBJECTS

I. ENGLISH

The preparation in English should include: (a) careful and prolonged training in grammar and composition; (b) thoughtful reading of all the prescribed books, and careful study of those named in division 3 below. It is recommended that the student do as much supplementary reading as possible and commit to memory a considerable amount of poetry. The examination is intended to test the candidate's power of clear and accurate expression and his knowledge and appreciation of the books read. The major part of the examination is devoted to the prescribed reading, but the importance attached to the ability to write clearly and correctly is equal to that attached to a knowledge of the prescribed books. A candidate will not be accepted if his answers are seriously defective in spelling, use of capitals, punctuation, grammar, use of words, or structure of sentences and paragraphs; or if they show insufficient acquaintance with the subject-matter of the prescribed books. The examination consists of three parts, which, however, cannot be taken separately:

1. In the first part the candidate will be required to answer elementary questions in grammar and usage, and to correct some examples of bad grammar and faulty choice of words.

2. In the second part the candidate must show a general knowledge of the subject-matter of the books named; he should be able to state the leading thoughts of an essay, and to tell the main incidents, sketch the principal characters, and describe the striking scenes of a poem or novel. He should also be able to answer simple questions on the lives of the authors.

In 1906, 1907, and 1908 the books for this portion of the examination will be: Shakspeare's Macbeth and The Merchant of Venice; The Sir Roger de Coverley Papers in The Spectator; Irving's Life of Goldsmith; Coleridge's Ancient Mariner; Scott's Ivanhoe and The Lady of the Lake; Tennyson's Gareth and Lynette, Lancelot and Elaine, and The Passing of Arthur; Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal; George Eliot's Silas Marner.

3. The third part requires careful and detailed study of the works named below. The examination covers subject-matter, logical structure, and literary form. Questions are asked about the style, the verse, the structure of the plots, the development of the characters, the meaning of words and allusions, and (in the case of essays and speeches) the logical structure of the whole.

In 1906, 1907, and 1908 the books for this portion of the examination will be: Shakspere's Julius Caesar; Milton's L' Allegro, Il Penseroso, Comus, and Lycidas; Burke's Speech on Conciliation with America; Macaulay's Essay on Milton and Life of Johnson.

II. ALGEBRA ‡

The requirements in Algebra cover the work through equations of the second degree, including the following subjects: factors, common divisors, and multiples; fractions, ratios, and proportions; negative quantities and the interpretation of negative results; the doctrine of exponents; radicals, and equations involving radicals; the binomial theorem for positive integral powers of the binomial, and the extraction of roots; putting questions into equations, and the reduction of equations; the ordinary methods of elimination, and the solution of both numerical and literal equations of the first and second degrees with one or more unknown quantities, and of problems leading to such equations; arithmetical and geometrical progression.

It is important that the student should acquire a thorough knowledge not only of the practice but also of the reasons involved in the elementary algebraic rules. He should likewise be able to use readily the more important formulae, as, for example, the quadratic formula.

III. PLANE GEOMETRY ‡

The requirements in Plane Geometry include those propositions which are contained in the ordinary treatises and which are recognized as constituting the elements of Geometry; also original propositions, and problems in mensuration.

Teachers of Geometry should lay stress on accuracy of statement and elegance of form as well as on clear and strict reasoning. Mere memorizing should be avoided. Special care should be taken that in the proof of a proposition no lines be drawn unless their construction is proved to be possible.

IV. SOLID GEOMETRY

The requirements in Solid Geometry include the equivalent of the Solid and Spherical Geometry presented in Wells's Geometry, omitting the portion dealing with Regular Polyhedrons.

‡ Although candidates are not examined in Arithmetic, a knowledge of its fundamental principles and a careful training in accurate computation with whole numbers and with vulgar and decimal fractions are regarded as essential parts of a preparatory course.

The school curriculum should be so arranged that no term shall pass without some time being given to a mathematical subject, and that both Algebra and Geometry shall be taken either in review or in advance during the last year of the course. For a four-year course an average of two and one half hours a week should be given to mathematics.

V. PLANE TRIGONOMETRY

The requirements in Plane Trigonometry include the equivalent of what is presented in the first seventy-six pages of Wells's New Plane and Spherical Trigonometry.

VI. ELEMENTARY LATIN

1. Caesar. Gallie War, books I-IV, or books I-III and Sallust's Catiline, with questions on the forms, the constructions, and the subject-matter.
2. Cicero. The Orations against Catiline and the Oration for Archias, with questions on the grammar and the subject-matter.
3. Ovid. Twenty-five hundred lines, with questions on the subject-matter and prosody.
4. Translation at sight of ordinary passages from Caesar and Cicero, with questions on the ordinary forms and constructions.
5. Translation into Latin of simple English sentences.

VII. ADVANCED LATIN

1. Includes 1, 2, 3 mentioned under Elementary Latin.
2. Vergil. Aeneid, books I-VI, or books I-V and the Eclogues, with questions on the constructions, the subject-matter, and prosody.
3. Translation at sight of prose and verse, with questions on the constructions, the subject-matter, and prosody.
4. Translation into Latin of a continuous passage of English narrative prepared from some portion of the prescribed prose.

VIII. ELEMENTARY GREEK

1. Xenophon's Anabasis, books I-IV, regard being had not only to language but to subject-matter as well.
2. Grammar. A familiar knowledge of inflection, word-formation, and ordinary syntax.
3. Composition. Preparation in writing connected Greek prose. Thorough work in any text-book will be accepted. Candidates must show ability to write in Greek, with accents, an ordinary passage of English based upon material similar to the Anabasis.

IX. ADVANCED GREEK

In addition to the elementary requirements, three books of Homer, or Anabasis, books V-VII, or Anabasis, book V, and Hellenica, books I and II.

X. ELEMENTARY FRENCH

1. Proficiency in elementary French grammar, including, especially, familiarity with the following topics: inflection of nouns and adjectives in gender and number; the pronominal adjectives; the use of pronouns, especially the forms and positions of personal pronouns; the partitive constructions; the inflection of the regular verbs and of the more usual irregular verbs such as dire, faire, and the classes represented by ouvrir, sentir, venir, paraître, con- duire and craindre. The mention of these topics is to be understood not as restrictive, but merely as emphasizing the importance of a thorough grounding of the pupil in the elements of the language.

2. Ability to translate simple prose at sight. It is believed that the required facility can be gained by reading, concurrently with the grammar work, from two hundred to four hundred duodecimo pages, of at least three dissimilar works. It is desired that the books read shall not be those assigned in the University courses.

3. Ability to pronounce French and to recognize French words and simple French phrases when spoken. It is recommended that from the beginning careful attention be given to the fluent and intelligent reading aloud of the French texts used in the class-room.

XI. ADVANCED FRENCH

In addition to the elementary requirements :

1. The translation at sight of standard French into idiomatic English.

2. The translation into French of a connected passage of English prose, to test the candidate's familiarity with grammar. Proficiency in grammar may also be tested by specific questions.

3. The writing of French from dictation.

Candidates will be expected to show a thorough knowledge of accidence and a familiarity with the essentials of French syntax, especially the uses of tenses, modes, prepositions, and conjunctions. The preparation should comprise the reading of from four hundred to six hundred pages of ordinary French, including the amount read for the elementary requirement ; constant practice in giving in French paraphrases, abstracts, or reproductions from memory, of selected passages ; the study of a grammar of moderate completeness ; writing from dictation.

XII. ELEMENTARY GERMAN

1. Proficiency in elementary German grammar, including, especially, familiarity with the following topics : declension of such nouns as are readily classified and of adjectives and pronouns ; conjugation of weak verbs and of the more usual strong verbs ; the commoner prepositions ; the simpler uses of the modal auxiliaries ; the simpler rules of syntax and of word-order. The mention of these topics is to be understood not as restrictive, but merely as emphasizing the importance of a thorough grounding of the pupil in the elements of the language.

2. Ability to translate a passage of simple prose at sight, when a vocabulary of the less usual words is furnished. It is believed that the required facility can be gained by reading, concurrently with the grammar work, two hundred duodecimo pages of easy German, chiefly narrative prose, with a few lyric poems. It is desired that the books read shall not be those assigned in the University courses.

3. Ability to pronounce German and to recognize German words and simple German phrases when spoken. It is recommended that from the beginning careful attention be given to the fluent and intelligent reading aloud of the German texts used in the class-room.

XIII. ADVANCED GERMAN

In addition to the elementary requirements :

1. Ability to translate at sight ordinary German into idiomatic English, the passages for translation being suited to the proficiency of those who have read not less than five hundred pages of classical and contemporary prose and verse selected from such works as Lessing's Minna von Barnhelm; Schiller's Wilhelm Tell, Maria Stuart, Jungfrau von Orleans, and Gedichte; Goethe's Hermann und Dorothea and Gedichte; Heine's Reisebilder and Gedichte; Freytag's Die Journalisten and Bilder aus der Vergangenheit; Scheffel's Der Trompeter von Säckingen; Uhland's Gedichte; Hoffmann's Historische Erzählungen; Meyer's Gustav Adolf's Page; Riehl's Novellen. It is recommended that at least one half of the reading be selected from the works of Lessing, Schiller, and Goethe.

2. Ability to state the main facts in the life of each author studied and to discuss the characters in the dramas read.

3. Ability to read aloud intelligently every text in the original. Such proficiency can be acquired only by constant oral practice in the class-room.

4. A knowledge of the elements of word-formation and of the principal uses of prepositions, conjunctions, modal auxiliaries, the subjunctive mode, and the infinitive.

Preparation for the advanced examination by candidates already prepared for the elementary examination should occupy at least five recitation periods a week in the last year of the preparatory course, or a smaller number of periods more widely distributed.

XIV. HISTORY

Either of the two following groups, each including two fields of historical study :

1. Greek and Roman history. (a) Greek history to the death of Alexander, with due reference to Greek life, literature, and art. (b) Roman history to the end of the reign of Marcus Aurelius, with due reference to literature and government.

2. English and American history. (a) English history, with due reference to social and political development. (b) American history, with the elements of civil government.

For preparation in either 1 or 2 a course of study equivalent to at least three lessons a week for one year will be necessary, or five lessons a week for one year for both 1 and 2. The candidates will be expected to show such general knowledge of each field as may be acquired from the study of an ac-

Candidates should have personally performed about one hundred simple experiments (those in Appleton's Young Chemist are mentioned as illustrations, but equivalents will be accepted). Each candidate is expected to submit his manuscript notes, or reports of his work. A course accomplishing the preparation above outlined will require an amount of time equivalent to three hours a week for one school year.

XVII. ASTRONOMY

The requirements imply class instruction for the equivalent of three hours a week for a school year in the elementary principles of the science, including observations of the heavens with reference to the positions and movements of the heavenly bodies. The following are the chief topics to be studied:

The Celestial Sphere; designation of the directions of a heavenly body.

Life on the Earth; influence of nature on man, influence of man on nature.

XIX. FREEHAND DRAWING

Candidates must submit a complete set of drawings made under the supervision of a teacher of drawing and properly certified by him. These drawings should show ability in the candidate to execute plain lettering with readiness and neatness; to make orthographic sketches of simple machine parts; to make intelligible perspective sketches of simple models, assuming different points of observation and applying the principles of shade and shadow.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

A candidate for admission to advanced standing who comes from an approved institution of collegiate rank may receive credit, without examination, for work done at such institution, provided that he present to the Registrar a detailed statement of his previous work and his standing therein, signed by the proper official. The amount of credit to be given is determined by the Committee on Registration and Attendance.

Every other candidate for admission to advanced standing must first satisfy the entrance requirements of the course which he desires to enter. He may then receive credit for any subject included in the curriculum of the course, provided, first, that he notify in writing the Committee on Registration and Attendance at the time he applies for admission to the University of his intention to present the subject, and second, that he pass an examination in the subject before a date set by the said Committee.

Every candidate must present a letter of honorable dismissal from the institution last attended.

Formal application for admission should be made to the Registrar, and should be sent, if possible, before August 1.

ADMISSION OF SPECIAL STUDENTS

Mature persons of good character who desire to pursue some special subject and who have had the requisite preliminary training are allowed to enter the various courses of study in the University without becoming candidates for a degree. Special students are subject to the same regulations regarding attendance and examinations as candidates for degrees; they must take fifteen hours of class-room work a week unless satisfactory reasons for a smaller assignment are presented.

Applicants for registration as special students must present to the Registrar, on or before August 1 if possible, a certified and detailed statement of the character and extent of their preparatory work, including testimonials of character and ability. In case a student has attended more than one institution, he must present credentials from all. Students who withdraw from a preparatory school before completing its course of study will not be admitted as special students unless the principal of the school distinctly recommends such action. Applicants must satisfy the officers of instruction, by examination or otherwise, that they are qualified to pursue the courses desired.

Special students will be accepted as candidates for a degree only after they have fully satisfied the requirements for admission either by certificate or by examination.

ADMISSION OF GRADUATE STUDENTS

To be admitted as a Graduate student, an applicant must have received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, of Philosophy, of Science, or of Letters from an institution of good standing, or must have completed in Brown University with a rank of C the work leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, of Philosophy, or of Science, with the exception of such an amount as the Committee on Registration and Attendance will allow him to take in excess of a full year's work (fifteen hours a week).

Persons who have obtained the degree of Bachelor of Arts, of Philosophy, of Science, or of Letters, and who desire to pursue Graduate studies without being candidates for an advanced degree, are admitted as special Graduate students. Such students are subject to all the regulations of the University regarding Graduate students except those which relate to candidacy for degrees.

REGISTRATION AND ENROLMENT OF UNDER-GRADUATES

REGISTRATION

In September of each year all new students, whether candidates for a degree or special students, must report at the Registrar's office between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. or between 2.30 p. m. and 5 p. m. on the Monday or Tuesday preceding the opening of the first term, and fill out registration cards for the whole of the ensuing year. Failure to comply with this rule will be treated as late registration and a fee of three dollars charged. All new students must present at or before the time of registration all credentials necessary for admission either as candidates for a degree or as special students.

In May of each year all Undergraduates in residence, whether candidates for a degree or special students, must obtain at the Registrar's office registration cards for the next year; these cards must be filled out by the students themselves with a statement of the courses elected for the whole of the ensuing year, and returned not later than June 1. Failure to comply with this rule will be treated as late registration and a fee of three dollars charged.

Courses bearing a single number must be elected as a whole. When term courses are grouped in one paragraph (e. g. Astronomy 1, 2, 3), the second term may not be taken without the first, nor the third without the second, unless specific statement to the contrary is made. In starred courses a final mark covering the work of the course as a whole will be given at the end of the course, the marks given at the end of the preceding term or terms being regarded as temporary. Changes in registration will be allowed only on presentation of sufficient reasons to the Committee on Registration and Attendance. Requests for permission to make changes in September must be presented to the Committee between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. or between 2.30 p. m. and 5 p. m. on the Monday or Tuesday preceding the opening of the first term. Requests for permission to make changes for the second or third term must be presented to the Committee before the beginning of the examinations of the first and second terms respectively, unless these requests be the result of failures, in which case they must be presented in writing to the Registrar two days before the opening of the second and third terms respectively.

ENROLMENT

In September all students whose registration cards have been already approved must report at the Registrar's office between 10 a. m. and 12 m. or between 3 p. m. and 5 p. m. on the day preceding the opening of the first term and have their names checked as enrolled for the term. Failure to report will be treated as late enrolment and a fee of three dollars charged.

At the beginning of the second and third terms all Undergraduates must report at the Registrar's office between 10 a. m. and 12 m. or between 3 p. m. and 5 p. m. on the day preceding the opening of the term and have their names checked as enrolled for the term. Failure to report will be treated as late enrolment and a fee of three dollars charged.

REGISTRATION AND ENROLMENT OF GRADUATE STUDENTS

On or before the first day of the academic year, every candidate for registration as a Graduate student must file an application with the Dean of the Graduate Department, naming the departments, not exceeding three, which he wishes to enter. The application must be made on a blank provided by the Dean, and the blank must be signed by the heads of the departments concerned. The candidate, if not a student or graduate of Brown University, must submit to the Dean, with his application, his diploma or other official evidence of having received a first academic degree, together with a marked catalogue or detailed statement showing the academic courses he has pursued.

A student who has been duly registered as a Graduate student is enrolled as a candidate for a degree when his course of study for the degree has been approved by the Dean of the Graduate Department and by the Faculty. Although graduates of other colleges of good standing are entitled to registration as Graduate students, they are not enrolled as candidates for degrees unless the course of study previously pursued by them is, in the opinion of the Dean of the Graduate Department acting in consultation with the Committee on Registration and Attendance, substantially equivalent to the course leading to the corresponding degree in Brown University. Graduates of colleges in which the course of study is not, in the opinion of this joint Committee, equivalent to the corresponding course at Brown University, will be registered as Graduate students, but if enrolled they will be required to make up their deficiency under the direction of the Committee.

A course cannot be dropped without the consent of the Dean of the Graduate Department, and of the head of the department which offers the course.

REGULATIONS UNDER WHICH A STUDENT MAY TAKE A FIRST DEGREE IN LESS THAN FOUR YEARS

A candidate for a first degree, who has credit for the required number of hours of work and all the required subjects, may, at the end of the term in which his work is completed, be excused from further attendance at the University and may receive his degree at the Commencement next following such term.

A candidate for a first degree who has maintained a satisfactory standing in his studies may, subject to the consent of the Committee on Registration and Attendance, take work in addition to the regular number of hours provided for in the curriculum of the course which he is pursuing.

A candidate for a first degree may receive credit for work done at the summer school of an approved institution of collegiate rank, provided that the work have the approval of the head of the related department in Brown

‡ Or some other course, not technical, chosen with the approval of the head of the Department of Electrical Engineering.

University. The amount of credit allowed at the institution in question will be allowed at Brown University, but the total credit for work at summer schools for any one summer shall in no case exceed fifteen term hours.

A candidate for a first degree may, with the consent of the head of any department and with the approval of the Faculty, pursue studies connected with said department during any summer in which he does not attend a summer school, and may receive credit for such studies, provided, first, that the work be under the supervision of the head of the department concerned; second, that he pass an examination in all the work before the end of the following term. The amount of credit for work of this kind shall be determined by the head of the department, but the total credit for any one summer shall not exceed nine term hours. No student will be allowed to do summer work in connection with any department of the University until he has presented to the head of the department a registration slip signed by the Registrar.

If a student at the beginning of his Senior year lacks less than forty-five term hours of completing his course he may, with the consent of the Committee on Registration and Attendance, distribute his work over the year.

If a student at the beginning of any term lacks less than fifteen term hours of completing his course he may, for reasons deemed sufficient by the Committee on Registration and Attendance, be excused from taking more than the necessary number of hours.

For conditions under which Graduate work may be pursued during the Senior year, see page 52, under Admission of Graduate Students.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS

To obtain the degree of Master of Arts, the candidate must first have received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, of Philosophy, of Science,† or of Letters, or, being a student in the Senior class in Brown University, must have been admitted, in the manner prescribed under Admission of Graduate Students, to candidacy for the bachelor's degree and the master's degree at the ensuing Commencement, and must further satisfactorily complete a course of liberal Graduate study of not less than fifteen hours a week for one year. Work done in residence for an advanced degree at another institution, and not to be used in fulfilment of the requirements for an advanced degree elsewhere, may, with the approval of the Dean of the Graduate Department, be offered in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts; but the equivalent of at least nine hours' work a week for one year must be done at Brown University. Graduates of Brown University who have to their credit work done as Undergraduates and not counted towards their bachelor's degree

† The degree of Bachelor of Science when given for technical work does not lead to the degree of Master of Arts or Doctor of Philosophy in Brown University. The degree of Bachelor of Science referred to in these regulations means a degree given for a course of liberal study.

may offer such work in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the master's degree, provided such work is in courses which may be taken by Graduates and does not lie in more than three departments, and provided the student has completed the work with a grade of C. When Graduate students pursue courses primarily designed for Undergraduates, a higher degree of scholarship than in the case of Undergraduates will be required.

When any part of the work leading to the degree of Master of Arts is done in absentia, the degree will not be conferred until the end of the second full year of study. The degree in absentia must be taken within three years after enrolment, unless the period is extended by special action of the Faculty. Candidacy in absentia may be terminated at the end of six months if definite evidence of progress has not been submitted. Candidates in absentia must register (by correspondence, if necessary) at the beginning of each college year, and make reports to their instructors at the end of each term. A final public examination is required of all candidates in absentia. This examination will be held only when notification of the intention to appear for examination is given on or before April 1 of the year in which the candidate desires to receive the degree.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF SCIENCE

To obtain the degree of Master of Science, the candidate must first have obtained the degree of Bachelor of Science, or have obtained the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Philosophy upon a course including at least an average of seven hours of work a week for four years in one or more of the mathematical, physical, or natural sciences, of a grade equivalent to that of similar courses in Brown University. He must further have completed a course of scientific study satisfactory to the Dean of the Graduate Department and the departments concerned, of not less than fifteen hours of work a week for one year, and must have completed a satisfactory thesis. All the work of a candidate for the degree of Master of Science must lie in one or more of the departments of Mathematics, Engineering, Physics, Chemistry, Astronomy, the Biological Sciences, Psychology, and Geology. Half the work required for the degree of Master of Science must be taken in courses designed wholly or primarily for Graduates. The remainder may consist of courses satisfactory to the departments concerned and to the Dean of the Graduate Department.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

To obtain the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, the candidate must first have obtained the degree of Bachelor of Arts, of Philosophy, of Science,‡ or of Letters. He must spend at least two years continuously in residence, pursuing a systematic course of advanced study approved by the Graduate Department, the Faculty, and the Board of Fellows, and pass satisfactory examinations on the same. Work done in residence for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at another institution, and not to be used in fulfillment of the requirements for an advanced degree elsewhere, may, with the approval of the Dean of the Graduate Department, be offered in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. One full year of continuous work, however, must be spent at Brown University. The candidate must conclude his course with a thesis embodying the results of original research, giving evidence of high scholarship and of special attainments in the studies pursued, and constituting as a whole a definite contribution to knowledge. The candidate is examined publicly before June 1 by a committee consisting in each case of the Graduate Department, together with those members of the Faculty who have directed the work of the candidate and any other officers of professorial rank in the respective departments. The examination is held only when notification of the intention to appear for examination is given on or before April 1 of the year in which the candidate desires to obtain his degree. The thesis of a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy must be presented to the Faculty, in typewritten copy or print, before May 1 in that year. The approval of this thesis by the Faculty is essential to the attainment of the degree.

For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at least two subjects are necessary, a major and a minor, not in the same department. The work of the major subject must amount to not less than three fifths of the whole. The selection of the courses constituting the major and minor subjects must receive the approval of the head of the department in which the major subject lies, and of the Dean of the Graduate Department. The approval of the head of the department in which the minor subject lies is also necessary for the courses elected in his department.

The candidate must further possess a reading knowledge of Latin, German, and French suitable for the purposes of his special studies, unless for sufficient reasons he is excused in respect to one of these languages. To test the candidate's proficiency in this particular, he is examined before December 1 in the last year of his candidacy by a committee consisting of the heads of the departments in which the major and minor subjects lie, and the heads of the departments of Latin, German, and French.

A year of work for the degree of Master of Arts may be, but is not necessarily, counted as a year of work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

ATTENDANCE, STANDING, AND EXAMINATIONS

EVERY student is expected to attend the daily chapel service and also every exercise in the several studies to which he is assigned.

A record is kept of the attendance of every student of the University and of his proficiency in his several studies. At the close of each term a report is sent to the parent or guardian of every Undergraduate student containing the record of all his absences from required exercises, indicating his standing in each of his studies for the term and his deficiency in any study or studies if any deficiency exists. A student who at the close of a term has failed in three or more studies, counting for more than eight hours of work a week, cannot be again registered without the permission of the Committee on Registration and Attendance.

Except in laboratory, seminary, and similar work, all classes are examined at the close of each term. A student is not admitted to examination in a study in which his term work is unsatisfactory to the officer of instruction, or in which he has been absent from one half of the class exercises. Examinations other than those regularly appointed are not held except in case of (1) candidates for advanced standing whose examinations are authorized by the Committee on Registration and Attendance; (2) students whose absences from the regular examinations have been excused by the Committee; (3) students who have been allowed to pursue, under appointed tutors, studies in which they have failed at regular examinations. A student who wishes to take a special examination must obtain from the Registrar an authorization, for which he must pay a fee of two dollars, unless this is remitted by the President or the Dean, and must then arrange with the officer of instruction for the examination.

The standing of students is indicated by letters as follows:

H is assigned to those whose work is of such excellence as to merit the designation of honor work.

C is assigned to those who have passed with credit.

P is assigned to those who have passed in the subject, but deserve no higher recognition.

F is assigned to those whose work during the term has been so unsatisfactory that, in the opinion of the instructor, they should not be allowed an examination, or to those whose examination has been so unsatisfactory that it should, in the opinion of the instructor, constitute a failure without regard to the work of the term, or to those who in the combined work of the term and the examination have failed to pass in the subject. A student who receives the mark F must pursue the subject again with a succeeding class, or if the instructor allows, under a tutor appointed by the head of the department; or, if the failure is in an elective course, he may take as a substitute some other course approved by the Committee on Registration and Attendance.

I is assigned to those whose work is incomplete, but satisfactory so far as done.

Abs. is assigned to those who are absent from examination, unless F has already been assigned. Unless a student's absence from examination is excused by the Committee, the mark Abs. will be changed to F.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

IN every department courses bearing a single number must be elected as a whole, whether they cover one, two, or three terms. When term courses are grouped in one paragraph (e. g. Astronomy 1, 2, 3), the second term may not be taken without the first, nor the third without the second, unless specific statement to the contrary is made. In starred courses a final mark covering the work of the course as a whole will be given at the end of the course, the marks given at the end of the preceding term or terms being regarded as temporary. When the time of meeting is not announced it will be arranged with the instructor at the beginning of the term.

LIBRARIES, LABORATORIES, AND MUSEUMS

LIBRARIES

THE libraries of the University contain one hundred and fifty thousand volumes. They comprise the MAIN LIBRARY, which occupies the Library Building (the gift of John Carter Brown, of the class of 1816); the JOHN CARTER BROWN LIBRARY, with its own building, recently given to the University; and the DEPARTMENT LIBRARIES, in the various laboratories and semi-nary rooms.

THE MAIN LIBRARY

The Main Library is constantly increased with reference to the different courses of study, while at the same time there is kept in view the development of a library of general culture. It includes three special libraries. The first is the Wheaton Collection of International Law, given by William V. Kellen, of the class of 1872, in honor of Henry Wheaton, of the class of 1802. The second is the Harris Collection of American Poetry, founded by Albert G. Greene, extended by C. Fiske Harris, and bequeathed to the University by the Hon. Henry B. Anthony, which numbers seven thousand bound volumes, and is perhaps the largest collection in the world devoted to the subject. A fund, given by Samuel C. Eastman, of the class of 1857, in memory of the founder of the collection, Albert G. Greene, of the class of 1820, provides for its regular increase. The third is the Rider Collection of Rhode Island History, formed by Sidney S. Rider and presented to the University by Marsden J. Perry, a collection which has no superior in extent and rarity of manuscript and printed material bearing on the history of the state. To all the books except the two latter collections the students have free access.

The reading room contains the most important reference books: the books reserved by the departments for class use; the Select Library, a special collection of five hundred volumes of attractive reading; and the latest numbers of the standard periodicals, American and foreign. In this room also are the Loan Desk, where books are charged and returned, and the desk of the Reference Librarian, whose duty is to advise and assist students in their use of the books.

The library funds amount to over seventy-eight thousand dollars. Of this sum ten thousand dollars constitutes the Gammell Fund, for the purchase of books relating to the history of the United States; ten thousand dollars, the Olney Fund, for the purchase of plants and botanical books; ten thousand dollars, the Diman Memorial Fund, for the purchase of books on mediæval and modern history; and ten thousand dollars, the Banigan Fund, for the purchase of books on mediaeval and church history. The remainder includes several smaller special funds and the Library Fund proper.

The following persons are entitled to the use of the Library without expense: the members of the Corporation and Faculty; other college officers; Graduates residing in the State of Rhode Island; donors to the funds of the University to the amount of five hundred dollars, residing in the State of Rhode Island; Graduate and Undergraduate students; and also other persons on whom the Corporation or the Library Committee may from time to time confer the privilege.

The Library is open during term time from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m. on week days, and from 2 to 11 p. m. on Sundays; during vacations from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on week days.

THE JOHN CARTER BROWN LIBRARY

The John Carter Brown Library, given to the University by the Trustees under the provisions of the will of the late John Nicholas Brown, of the class of 1885, is a collection of fifteen thousand volumes relating to the history of North and South America during the colonial period. The larger part of the books, many of which are of great rarity and value, were printed before the year 1800 and contain the earliest published accounts of events connected with the history of the discovery, exploration, and colonization of the Western Hemisphere. This collection, well known for many years as the most valuable private library of Americana in existence, was begun by John Carter Brown, of the class of 1816, and after his death was greatly enlarged by his widow and by his sons, the late John Nicholas and Harold Brown. The John Carter Brown Library occupies a building erected for it at the southeastern corner of the middle campus. It is open daily from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m., and the books may be consulted by all properly qualified students or investigators, upon application to the Librarian. In the main hall of the building there are a number of cases in which are constantly shown different exhibits of the rare books, engravings, and manuscripts belonging to the collection.

Hezekiah Conant. The Library now comprises over six thousand carefully selected volumes, including editions of all the important writers of German literature; a large collection of Germanic philology; the leading German literary and philological periodicals; many works upon German history, the history of German literature, and German law, art, palaeography, and geography. The Library is especially rich in works of the Middle High German period, and in Goethe and Schiller literature. It possesses many works of art which illustrate the subjects taught,—bronzes, framed engravings, and volumes of plates. The rooms are open from 9.20 a. m. to 12.30 p. m., from 2 to 6 p. m., and from 8 to 9.30 p. m.

It consists of fifteen hundred volumes, purchased with funds contributed by friends of the University interested in classical studies, and contains the most important collections of Greek and Roman authors, besides commentaries, reference books, and similar aids. The Seminary is made the centre for advanced study and research in the classical languages and literatures. Though primarily intended for Graduate students, the Seminary is open to such Undergraduates as are qualified to profit by its advantages. The room is open from 9.20 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The rooms are open from 9.20 a. m. to 4 p. m.

THE EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT LIBRARY

The Educational Department Library is contained in the seminary room of the department, in the Administration Building. The library contains over one thousand volumes, chiefly text-books of recent publication. The room is open to all students interested in education, and to teachers and friends of education in the city and state.

THE WOMEN'S COLLEGE LIBRARY

The Women's College Library and Reading Room occupy two rooms in Pembroke Hall. The library comprises about two thousand volumes of standard literature, chosen with special regard to the courses offered, thus forming for students of the Women's College a convenient and valuable adjunct to the University Library.

OTHER DEPARTMENT LIBRARIES

Most of the other departments of the University have special collections of books for seminary and advanced laboratory work. The most important of these belong to the departments of Astronomy, Botany, Chemistry, Economics, Engineering, English, Geology, Mathematics, Philosophy, and Physics.

OTHER PROVIDENCE LIBRARIES

There are also practically at the service of the students of the University the six collections of books named below. These comprise, with the University Library, about four hundred and fifty thousand volumes, exclusive of pamphlets and manuscripts.

THE PROVIDENCE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Providence Public Library welcomes all students of Brown University, upon the same conditions as other residents of the city, to the use of its carefully selected collection, which comprises more than one hundred and eighteen thousand volumes. It is situated at the corner of Washington and Greene streets. It includes various special collections and departments. Its principal rooms are open regularly from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. ; on Sundays and legal holidays from 2 to 9 p. m. Among its special departments may be mentioned the Harris Collection on Slavery and the Civil War ; the Educational Study-room ; the " Standard Library " of best literature ; and the Reference Department. About six hundred periodicals, serials, and annuals (of which about two hundred and seventy are the best known weeklies, monthlies, and quarterlies) are currently received. The library staff will be glad to be consulted with respect to books relating to any of the departments of University study, and to prepare lists of references in connection with any of the special topics under consideration.

THE LIBRARY OF THE PROVIDENCE ATHENAEUM

This is a library of general literature. It numbers sixty-seven thousand volumes. The reading room receives upwards of two hundred papers and magazines, including New York, Boston, and Providence daily papers, and American, English, German, French, and Italian weeklies, magazines, and reviews. In bound sets of periodicals and in books on art this library is especially rich. Professors or teachers, non-residents of the city, may become annual subscribers on the payment of four dollars in advance, and any student of Brown University whose family does not reside in the city, or who may obtain the privilege from the Board of Directors, may become a subscriber for three months on the payment of one dollar. The annual subscription for residents is seven dollars and a half. The Athenaeum is open during the college year from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. on week days.

THE LIBRARY OF THE RHODE ISLAND HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Library of the Rhode Island Historical Society is situated on Waterman Street, next door to the University Library building. The library of the Society comprises twenty thousand bound volumes and forty thousand valuable unbound volumes and pamphlets. Through the courtesy of the Society the collection is made accessible, free of charge, to members of the University. It offers special facilities for thorough research not only in all subjects relating to the history of Rhode Island, but also in genealogy, local history, and general American history. Its library has recently been enriched by a special bequest of books on the English and American drama, and by a collection of works on early American travels and ethnology. The Library is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on week days.

THE LIBRARY OF THE RHODE ISLAND MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Library of the Rhode Island Medical Society is kept in the Providence Public Library Building, on Washington Street. It comprises twenty-two thousand volumes and numerous pamphlets upon medical science, including biology, physiology, physiological psychology, hygiene, and other subjects the study of which is pursued in the University. About one hundred and seventy-five medical periodicals are currently received. Arrangements are easily made whereby any student can without cost enjoy the privileges here offered. This collection is open daily from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

THE STATE LAW LIBRARY

The State Law Library, a collection of twenty-nine thousand volumes, may be consulted in the Providence County Court House, at the corner of Benefit and College streets, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. on week days, excepting on Saturdays, when it closes at 3 p. m. It is accessible to all students, and for certain lines of University study is invaluable. University students are requested to introduce themselves to the librarian on their first visit to this library.

THE STATE LIBRARY

The State Library, located in the State House, is accessible to the public from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. ; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 12 m. This library contains a large collection of official documents of the United States and of the several states, as well as general works pertaining to history and political science.

LABORATORIES

THE LADD ASTRONOMICAL OBSERVATORY

The Ladd Astronomical Observatory is equipped with a Saegmuller-Brashear equatorial of twelve inches aperture, which is supplied with a filar micrometer, spectroscope, and other attachments; two transit instruments, one of which can be used as a zenith telescope; a chronograph; two astronomical clocks; several sextants and chronometers; recording meteorological apparatus; and various minor instruments. The equipment is available for illustrating the general courses in astronomy and for practical use in the applied courses.

The Observatory furnishes constant time-signals to the Rhode Island Electric Protective Company, which distributes them to its patrons. Routine observations for determining clock errors, and for pressure, temperature, humidity, and precipitation are made throughout the year. Special observations are also made as opportunity offers.

THE PHYSICAL LABORATORY

The Physical Laboratory, in which the courses offered by the department of Physics are conducted, is in Wilson Hall, which was specially designed and constructed for this purpose. Twelve special laboratory rooms are available for experimental study. Brick piers support instruments requiring great steadiness, and the magnetic rooms are as free as possible from the influence of iron and from other disturbances. Several rooms on the ground floor are devoted to a laboratory for electrical engineering. The Laboratory is supplied with apparatus both experimental and demonstrative, and additions are made as necessity requires; merely exhibitional apparatus is excluded. The department is in possession of a large assortment of historical and other photographs, lantern slides, and cage models illustrating the propositions in pure and applied physics.

THE ANATOMICAL LABORATORIES

The Anatomical Laboratories are in Rhode Island Hall. They consist of private rooms for the instructors, a laboratory for Graduate students, a seminary room, a physiological laboratory, a laboratory for bacteriology and histology, a laboratory for neurology and embryology, and a large laboratory for elementary anatomy and the comparative anatomy of vertebrates and invertebrates. The large collection of zoological material, the anatomical and histological preparations of the Museum, the anatomical collection of the Rhode Island Medical Society, and rich material frequently contributed by the United States Fish Commission from the deep-sea dredging excursions, are always accessible to the students. Abundant living material is also readily available, since the laboratory is situated near the salt water and within a few miles of two floating laboratories located on opposite sides of Narragansett Bay.

THE CHEMICAL LABORATORIES

The Chemical Laboratories are in Rogers Hall, which was erected expressly for the Department of Chemistry. The inorganic laboratory is supplied with work-tables and lockers furnishing accommodations for about two hundred and fifty students working by detachments. The organic laboratory is fitted with work-tables for about fifty students. Each table has arrangements for gas, high pressure water supply, etc. The library of the Chemical Department is here.

THE BOTANICAL LABORATORY

The Botanical Laboratory is in the basement of Maxey Hall. The main lecture room and laboratory will accommodate thirty-seven students. A smaller room adjoining is used for a histological laboratory and will accommodate twelve students. Instruments and certain materials are provided. The Herbarium, on the same floor, is convenient for consultation and for the systematic study of native and foreign plants.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL LABORATORY

The Psychological Laboratory occupies rooms in Wilson Hall. It possesses apparatus for the study of sensations, the determination of discriminative sensibility, the measurement of the duration of mental processes, the detection of physiological accompaniments of changes in consciousness, the study of temperament, and other fields of research. This equipment is adapted for the illustration and demonstration of the main results of experimental work in psychology, and offers good facilities for carrying out the aim of the department—to make contributions to knowledge on this subject by original research.

THE MECHANICAL ENGINEERING LABORATORIES

The Mechanical Engineering Laboratories, library, and drawing room are situated in the Engineering Building. This building is seventy-two by eighty-four feet, three stories high, and is designed so that a later addition of nearly equal size may be made. The first floor is used as an engineering laboratory. On the second floor are four large recitation rooms and a laboratory containing the lighter experimental apparatus. The third floor is used entirely for drafting.

The laboratory for testing the strength of materials contains a 400,000-pound Riehle testing machine of special design for testing large specimens in tension, compression, and cross bending; a 50,000-pound Riehle testing machine; a machine for testing full-sized timber and steel beams; a 50,000-inch-pound Olsen torsion testing machine; a machine for testing by repeated stresses; a Riehle cement testing machine; and the necessary auxiliary apparatus such as micrometers, extensometers, etc.

The steam engineering laboratory contains a cross-compound condensing Corliss engine, size 10 and 18 by 30, specially designed for experimental purposes, together with various smaller engines, steam pumps, injectors, and the necessary apparatus for testing them, and also a boiler of 250 pounds' working pressure, arranged for either natural or mechanical draft. The central heating plant of the University is used as a basis for numerous tests by the students.

The laboratory of metallography is equipped with apparatus for investigating the nature and structure of alloys. In connection with the laboratory is a photographic dark room. The apparatus includes polishing machines for preparing specimens, a Leitz microscope with accessories, including photographic apparatus, a thermo-electric pyrometer, and lantern apparatus.

The department is provided with the necessary small apparatus such as indicators, tachometers, a gauge tester, steam and fuel calorimeters, and gas analysis apparatus. It has also facilities for meter testing, etc. Models for the illustration of the various courses are constantly being made or acquired.

THE MECHANICAL ENGINEERING SHOPS

The Mechanical Engineering Shops, situated in Rogers Hall, are equipped for purposes of instruction. The wood-working shop is provided with large and small lathes, circular and band saws, a buzz-planer, vertical boring and mortising machines, and benches and bench tools. The metal-working shop is provided with engine lathes, hand lathes, a planer, a shaper, milling machines, large and small vertical drills, a universal grinder, a surface grinder, a cutter and reamer grinder, a drill grinder, a power hack saw, and a small foot-press. There are also a blacksmith's outfit for forming and dressing tools, and facilities for hardening and tempering. Power is furnished by two 10-horse-power electric motors.

THE MECHANICAL DRAWING ROOMS

The Mechanical Drawing Rooms are on the top floor of the Engineering Building. These rooms accommodate two hundred and fifty students. About two hundred and twenty-five valuable models in wood and metal have been collected; many of these are mechanical in nature and are extensively used in the courses. The department possesses a dark room, exposure frame, and washing tank, for preparing and developing blue-prints. Connected with the main drawing room is a library and reading room in which may be found books relating to drawing and allied subjects. A limited number of sets of drawing instruments have been provided for the use of deserving students who would otherwise be unable to pursue courses in drawing.

THE CIVIL ENGINEERING DRAFTING ROOMS

The Civil Engineering Drafting Rooms, library, instrument room, and offices are located on the second floor of the Engineering Building. The drafting rooms have desks for about sixty students. The instrument room contains a complete equipment of transits, theodolites, wye-levels, dumpy levels, hand levels, plane tables, compasses, base-line apparatus, planimeters, tapes, leveling rods, telemeter rods, range poles, etc., for the field work in surveying and railroad engineering. For the work in structural engineering the department has a collection of over four hundred photographs, five hundred large blue-prints of bridges, buildings, roof trusses, etc., and a complete set of steel structural shapes and iron beam-hangers. The department has also a collection of the various rocks used as road material, a Bausch and Lomb petrographical microscope, a set of the rail sections of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and models of railway appliances and harbor improvements.

MUSEUMS

THE MUSEUMS OF ZOÖLOGY AND ANTHROPOLOGY

The Museums of Zoölogy and Anthropology are in Rhode Island Hall, and are open to the public daily. Students desiring to use the collections for the purpose of study or investigation receive every encouragement, the aim being to make the museums not mere exhibition rooms, but places for work. The zoölogical and anatomical collections of the University form the Jenks Zoölogical Museum. The Museum of Anthropology contains a collection of articles of dress and rare implements from foreign countries, and a valuable collection of stone implements of aboriginal American races, including those of Rhode Island.

THE HERBARIUM

The Herbarium, situated in Maxcy Hall, consists mainly of various collections which have been given or bequeathed to the University. Those of Colonel Olney, Mr. Bennett, Dr. Bailey, Miss Stout, and Mr. Brownell are the most prominent. The Olney collection is particularly rich in the genus Carex. The Stout collection consists mostly of ferns. In addition to these collections many specimens have been obtained by exchange, purchase, and small donations. The Olney, Bailey, and Stout collections are nearly all mounted; the remainder are mainly unmounted. These collections are merged in one general herbarium, containing in all about forty thousand sheets, representing specimens from more than sixty thousand localities. In 1902 Dr. Bailey's second herbarium was purchased by friends and presented to the University. This is now being arranged and mounted, and will ultimately be merged in the general collection. To these is added the nucleus of a collection of seeds.

The arrangement of orders and genera of the flowering plants is at present according to Bentham and Hooker's Genera Plantarum; of the ferns, according to Hooker's Synopsis Filicum; of the mosses, according to Eaton's list. All are soon to be arranged according to Engler and Prantl's Natürliche Pflanzenfamilien.

THE MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS

The Museum of Fine Arts occupies the first floor of Manning Hall. It contains plaster casts of rare excellence, chiefly from works of classical sculpture, which are of great value in illustrating ancient history, biography, and art. It also contains a few bronzes and oil paintings.

The portraits, of which the University possesses a large number of valuable specimens, are mostly hung in Sayles Memorial Hall. The collection receives accessions every year. It now includes portraits of the University's principal benefactors, of many of its former officers, and of many other distinguished persons, Americans and foreigners, the history of Rhode Island being especially well represented.

ARRANGEMENTS WITH OTHER INSTITUTIONS

THE RHODE ISLAND SCHOOL OF DESIGN

THE Rhode Island School of Design, which was incorporated in 1877 and opened in Providence in 1878, is an institution of large and increasing importance for the education of artisans and artists in the principles and processes of art, and for the general advancement of education in art by the exhibition of works of art and art studies, and by lectures on art. Its school buildings and museum are near the University grounds, and its collections are open daily to the public free of charge. Through its exhibitions there is opened to students an important means of culture.

The Corporation and Faculty of Brown University have agreed with the authorities of the Rhode Island School of Design upon a plan of coöperation in accordance with which certain courses at this school will be open to students of Brown University and will be counted towards a University degree. A description of these courses and a statement of the conditions under which they may be elected will be found in the list of studies given under the Department of Art, on page 68. Students from the Rhode Island School of Design are admitted to any classes in Brown University for which they are found to be prepared, and Brown University gives certain special courses for the benefit of classes from the Rhode Island School of Design.

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES AT ATHENS

In 1902 a number of the friends of the University, in recognition of the sixtieth anniversary of the graduation of Professor Harkness, one of the founders of the School, united in contributing the sum of $5,555, which was paid to the Treasurer of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens to establish a fund to be known forever as "The Albert Harkness Fund for the Benefit of Brown University." The privilege of free tuition in the School at Athens for all adequately prepared graduates of Brown University is henceforth secured by the establishment of this Fund. Any who desire detailed information regarding the School may obtain it by applying to Professor William Carey Poland, a former Director of the School, and now a member of the Managing Committee.

THE NEWTON THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTION

The Newton Theological Institution has entered into an agreement with Brown University whereby certain work done in the University, for which a mark of C has been awarded, or upon which the student passes an examination satisfactory to the Newton Faculty, will be credited toward graduation in the Theological course as follows: Biblical Literature and History 1, 2 (132 hours); 13, 14 (112 hours); 7-12 (108 hours); English 7 (36 hours): in all, 388 hours.

The total number of prescribed hours in the Theological course at the Newton Theological Institution is 1,620.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF PROVIDENCE

The School Committee of the City of Providence, by a special agreement, appoints a number of students as teachers in the Providence High Schools. Appointments are made from members of the Senior class who have pursued undergraduate courses in Education. These student-teachers are of two types. Those of the first type—of whom there are at least six (three of each sex)—are occupied in the schools each day for somewhat more than half the usual school session. They receive a salary of four hundred dollars a year from the city. Those of the second type are allowed to teach and observe about five hours a week. They have considerably more freedom in the choice of subjects and of hours than those of the first type; they receive no remuneration from the city. An unusual opportunity is thus afforded students to gain at the same time a knowledge of the theory of education and experience in the art of teaching. In making appointments to places as teachers of the lowest grade in the Providence High Schools, preference is given to those who have successfully completed this course of training as student-teachers. In this respect student-teachers of the second type have the same status before the committee that makes appointments as those of the first type. The practice-teaching in the Providence High Schools is done under the following supervising teachers: Charles E. Dennis, Ph.D., Latin; Charles E. Tilley, A.M., Physics and Chemistry; Horace E. Jacobs, A.M., Latin and Mathematics; Florence J. Whiting, A.M., Mathematics; Sidney A. Sherman, Ph.D., History; Harriet P. Fuller, A.M., Latin; M. Catherine Mahy, A.M., English; William Jones, Ph.D., History and Civics; Agnes F. Williams, A.B., French; Harry Smalley, A.M., History.

In a similar way a number of students are appointed to places in the Providence Grammar Schools. They receive a salary of three hundred dollars a year from the city. If, after completing their course of training, they are appointed as regular teachers in the city schools, they have credit for experience which entitles them to receive five hundred dollars for their first year of service. They have also certain other advantages. A limited number of Seniors and Graduates who are pursuing courses in Education are allowed to observe and teach in the Grammar Schools of the city in a way similar to that provided for student-teachers of the second type in High Schools. The practice-teaching in the Providence Grammar Schools is done under the following supervising teachers: Isaac O. Winslow, A.M., Grammar Grades; Mary Williams, Eighth Grade; and the Grammar Critics of the Providence Public Schools.

PROVISIONS FOR THE PERSONAL WELFARE OF THE STUDENTS

PHYSICAL TRAINING

FOR the physical training of the students excellent opportunities are offered by the Lyman Gymnasium. It is thoroughly equipped with baths, dressing rooms, bowling alleys, and all kinds of apparatus usually found in modern gymnasiums. It has also a swimming pool—the Colgate Hoyt Swimming Pool—seventy-five feet in length by twenty-five feet in width, with a capacity of seventy-five thousand gallons. The pool is made of enameled brick and marble, and is supplied with a filter to ensure the clearness and purity of the water. All the gymnasium work is under the care of the Professor of Physical Training, who makes a thorough examination and measurement of each student on entrance, and at other times during the year by request. Special cases are referred to Dr. G. W. Gardner, the University Physician. Such exercises are prescribed as may be necessary to give health, strength, and symmetrical development. No student is allowed to attempt any feat which is likely to result in injury. From the close of the Thanksgiving recess to the end of the second term, all first and second year students are required to attend gymnasium exercises three times a week. For other members of the University voluntary classes are provided. The instructor gives five-minute talks on personal hygiene and exercise. The class work consists of setting-up exercises, developing exercises, calisthenics, the use of clubs, dumb-bells, wands, and single sticks, and general athletics. Instruction is also given in wrestling, boxing, and swimming. A special effort is made to teach all students to swim. In all the work, the aim is to develop health, strength, and vitality.

All branches of athletics are under the management of the Brown University Athletic Association and are controlled by a Board composed of representatives of the Faculty, Alumni, and Undergraduates. The Faculty Committee on Athletic and Other Student Organizations has general oversight of the deportment and scholarship of the members of the various teams. Lincoln Field adjoins the gymnasium and is a convenient place of exercise for the class teams and the students in general. Andrews Field, which is a mile and a half from the University, offers the usual opportunities for all the University teams.

MEDICAL CARE

Any student suffering from illness is expected to go at once to the office of the University Physician, Dr. George W. Gardner, or, if necessary, to request Dr. Gardner to come to his room. When called to see students, the duty of the University Physician is to make one call for diagnosis and prescription at the expense of the University. For continued attendance, students will make their own arrangements with Dr. Gardner or some other physician.

The University owns two free beds in the Rhode Island Hospital, to the occupancy of which the President of the University has the right of appointment. The first of these, THE CHARLES SMITH BRADLEY FREE BED, was established in 1872 by a payment to the hospital of four thousand dollars by the late Judge Bradley, a member of the Board of Fellows, thereby endowing a free bed "under the control of the President of Brown University for the time being, for the benefit of any officer or student of that institution who may have occasion for it." The second, THE GEORGE IDE CHACE FREE BED, was established by a payment to the hospital of a like sum by the late Professor George Ide Chace; this foundation gives to the President of the University "the right to nominate and send to said hospital a patient, being a proper subject for treatment in said hospital, according to the rules of the institution to occupy a bed in said hospital, and to receive the usual care, and medical, surgical, and other attendance, and medicines and board, free of charge."

CHAPEL SERVICES

A chapel service is held in Sayles Hall every week day at 9 a.m. At the same hour the Women's College has a chapel service in Pembroke Hall. The President usually conducts the exercises in Sayles Hall, and the Dean of the Women's College conducts the exercises in Pembroke Hall. Attendance is required of Undergraduates.

During the winter a series of vesper services is held in Sayles Hall on Wednesday afternoons at five o'clock, open both to students and to the public. The preachers last year were as follows:

PRESIDENT CHARLES CUTHBERT HALL, D.D., of Union Theological Seminary

REV. GEORGE H. FERRIS, A.M., of New Haven, Conn.

REV. SAMUEL A. ELIOT, D.D., President of the American Unitarian Association

REV. WILLIAM C. BITTING, D.D., of New York City

ROBERT E. SPEER, A.M., Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions

REV. ANSON PHELPS STOKES, JR., A.M., Secretary of Yale University

RT. REV. JOHN H. VINCENT, D.D., Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church

THE BROWN UNION

The Brown Union is an organization intended to promote the social and religious life of the University. Its membership is open to students, alumni, and members of the Faculty. It occupies Rockefeller Hall, which was built especially for its use. The immediate direction of the Union is vested in a Board of Management consisting of the President of the Union and four members appointed by the Corporation. The building provides ample accommodations for the Brown University Young Men's Christian Association, which conducts voluntary Bible classes for students and maintains an employment bureau and supports philanthropic work in the city. Rooms are also provided for other religious, literary, and social organizations of the students.

STUDENT ADVISERS

Every member of the Freshman class is assigned to some member of the Faculty who serves throughout the year as a special counselor to that student. In the assignment of students to advisers the preferences of both are consulted when practicable. The system is designed to further personal intercourse between student and instructor, and to afford the student means of obtaining at any time unofficial advice on any matter connected with his college life.

DORMITORY ACCOMMODATIONS

IN the University dormitories there are in all one hundred and forty-six single rooms and thirty-four suites. The rooms in Hope College, University Hall, Slater Hall, and the College Street House are rented unfurnished. Those in Maxcy Hall and Caswell Hall contain all necessary furniture, occupants providing nothing except bed-linen and towels. A table showing the rent and location of the dormitory rooms is given in the Appendix. The prices there given include rent, heat, and service for the college year. In the College Street House lighting is also included; in Slater Hall, University Hall, Hope College, Maxcy Hall, and Caswell Hall, there are meters for each room and the occupants are charged for the amount used each term.

Each student renting a room must sign a contract therefor in the form given below, on which surety may be demanded, binding him to pay, or cause to be paid, the rent of the room through the entire year. Where two students rent a room together, each must sign a contract for half the room expenses. This obligation is not impaired by the student's removal from the University, whatever the cause of such removal.

The following is a contract between Brown University, party of the first part, and the undersigned, party of the second part. I hereby engage room No. in ; the same not to be occupied by any other person without consent of the party of the first part, and I bind myself to pay or cause to be paid to the Registrar of Brown University the entire rent, including heat and service, amounting to $ for the college year beginning September, 190 .

It is a part of this agreement that I shall be held responsible for all damage or defacement of such room or its furniture, ordinary wear excepted ; also that disuse of the room by me on account of illness, or in case registration is refused me owing to low standing or bad conduct, does not impair the obligation of this contract.

Signed _____

This day of

Not more than two students are allowed regularly to occupy a room or suite. When the University holds full contracts for a room, the tenant or tenants may admit to the regular use of the room in the daytime one or two students, but not more than two. The names of any such sub-tenants must be reported to the Registrar as soon as the arrangement for sub-tenancy is made. For each sub-tenant the University makes an extra charge of one dollar a term for service. This sum is paid to the University by the tenant in chief if there is but one; if there are two, each pays half.

Students who desire to retain for the coming year the rooms now rented by them may do so by signing new contracts and filing them with the Registrar before 4 p. m. on May 11, 1906. All rooms not signed for on the above date will be disposed of at a drawing on May 26 at 4.30 p. m. Men intending to enter college can arrange to be represented at the drawing by notifying the Registrar.

Electrical Engineering, each 3-hour course	5.00 a term

GUARANTEE AND TERM BILLS

At the time of admission every student is required to present a guarantee signed by his parent or guardian or some other responsible person. This guarantee must cover all college expenses. A student may be excused from furnishing the guarantee by payment of his full term bill at the time of registration, and also his full annual room rent at the beginning of the year.

Bills are sent out as soon as possible after the beginning of each term and are due on presentation.

ESTIMATE OF ANNUAL EXPENSES

THE following is an approximate estimate of the annual expenses of a student who occupies (with a room-mate) a dormitory room. It does not include outlay for clothes and traveling or other strictly personal expenses.

	Moderate	Liberal
Tuition	$105.00	$105.00
Incidentals	48.00	48.00
Room rent, including heat and service	60.00	212.50
Board (40 weeks)	150.00	280.00
Books and laboratory expenses	30.00	75.00
Total	$393.00	$720.50

Matriculation fee (first year), $5.

Graduation fee (fourth year), $8.

Board is not furnished by the University; but the BROWN UNIVERSITY CO-OPERATIVE REFRATORY, organized and controlled by students, furnishes its shareholders with board at cost. At present the price is $3.75 a week.

Students needing to increase their incomes through their own exertions find in the city numerous opportunities for doing so by giving private instruction, by teaching in evening schools, and by other occupations not inconsistent with their college duties.

FINANCIAL AID TO STUDENTS

THE aid which Brown University is able to offer students of limited means is granted under three conditions: (1) the recipient must be a candidate for a degree, having been fully admitted to the Freshman class or to advanced standing; (2) the recipient must be of good moral character and maintain a creditable standing in his studies; the aid is withdrawn if the student is placed under college discipline or fails to maintain good scholarship; an average of C is expected; (3) the recipient must be in need of the financial assistance rendered. The aid rendered is of three kinds: (1) Loans; (2) Fellowship, scholarship, and aid funds; (3) Payment in cash or in credit on term bills for services rendered.

The administration of the scholarship and aid funds is in the hands of a committee of the Faculty, annually appointed by the Corporation for that purpose. The Dean of the University is the executive of the committee. Applications for scholarships for a given academic year should be filed with the Dean before May 1 of the preceding year. Action upon all applications is taken by the committee before July 1. The President has charge of the administration of fellowships, loan funds, and the service system.

[A.] LOAN FUNDS

The University has two funds available for this purpose:

I. The Alumni Loan Fund, now amounting to about $4,300. This Fund was established by the Alumni Association at the Commencement of 1900 by a vote transferring to the Treasurer of the University the fund formerly known as the Brown Loyalty Fund, to be used as a loan fund for students. The principal of this fund is loaned at interest, to be repaid as agreed upon in each instance.

II. A fund of several hundred dollars, which is loaned in small amounts without interest, for short periods, to students unexpectedly needing temporary assistance.

[B.] FELLOWSHIP, SCHOLARSHIP, AND AID FUNDS

THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC FELLOWSHIP

In 1891 the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Rhode Island, gave to Brown University the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be forever known as the Grand Army of the Republic Fellowship Fund. Only the income of the Fund can be used. This income is for the aid of a Graduate of Brown University, of acknowledged excellence in scholarship and character, who before accepting this fellowship must be enrolled as a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, unless he has already received that degree, and who will reside at Brown University and devote his entire time to the pursuit of advanced liberal study. The intention is that the income for any year shall all go to the same person, except in case of his death or his resignation or forfeiture of the fellowship, when a successor may be appointed for the remainder of the year. Holders of the fellowship are appointed by the President of the University, subject to the approval of the Board of Fellows; but the descendants of Union Veterans of the Civil War of 1861-5 are always to be preferred when the other qualifications of candidates are equal. No consideration touching the political or religious preferences of candidates can ever enter into the appointments. Appointments to the fellowship are regularly made for one year, but incumbents of special diligence or ability may be reappointed. The President is authorized to make for the reception and use of the income from this Fund such other conditions, not inconsistent with the above, as he may from time to time deem wise and proper. Applications for this fellowship must be made in writing on blanks furnished by the Dean of the Graduate Department, and must be in the hands of the President not later than May 15. The Grand Army of the Republic Fellow for 1905-6 is

GUY BLANDIN COLBURN, A.M.

TEACHING FELLOWSHIPS

In addition to the foregoing, a number of Teaching Fellowships have been established, information regarding which will be furnished by the President.

The scholarships established when the rate of interest was higher than at present and the cost of education less, are each of one thousand dollars. There are now seventy-six scholarships of this amount, each with a designated name and yielding the beneficiary forty-five dollars annually; with the exceptions indicated, they bear the names of their founders.

The second is open to any graduate of Baylor University under similar conditions. The third is open to any graduate of the Central High School in St. Louis, Mo., subject to the recommendation of the Principal.

The following scholarships have been in part established:

THE TWO GEORGE HALE BACON MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

paying each recipient one hundred fifty dollars a year, founded by George A. Bacon in the name of his father. The awards are to be made only to young men in need of assistance and to be given solely on grounds of scholarship and personal character, no other consideration to receive any weight whatever.

AID FUNDS

These are two in number, and their income is divided into scholarships of varying amounts, which are awarded under the general conditions applicable to all scholarships. They are:

THE AID FUND, established by friends of the University in 1868, and now amounting to $9,300;

THE DANIEL W. LYMAN FUND FOR STUDENTS, established by Daniel W. Lyman, and now amounting to $72,250.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS

In addition to the income of the Scholarship and Aid Funds, the Advisory and Executive Committee of the Corporation appropriates each year a large sum of money from the Common Fund of the University for the assistance of students. This amount at present exceeds $15,000, and is used for establishing University Scholarships, which are of three grades:

(1) A small number yielding each $50 a term or $150 a year, awarded to a few Juniors and Seniors of especially high scholarship.

(2) A number yielding each $35 a term or $105 a year.

(3) A number yielding each $20 a term or $60 a year, used in part to supplement the smaller endowed scholarships, and also for those students needing relatively less assistance.

The University Scholarships are taken directly from the University treasury and employ funds which would otherwise be available for other college purposes. It is expected, therefore, that the holders of them will regard them as in a certain sense a loan, and will at some subsequent time after graduation return to the treasury the amount awarded to be used for the increase of the permanent scholarship funds, or that they will in some other way contribute to the endowment of the University.

[C.] SERVICE

The University is able to give employment to a number of students as monitors, assistants in the libraries and laboratories, members of the choir, and clerks in the Registrar's office. Not more than two hours a day are ordinarily required of any student; the compensation is made at definite rates. At present about $6,000 a year is appropriated for service, and employment is given to about eighty students, who receive amounts varying from $20 to $40 a term. The University also coöperates with the Young Men's Christian Association in efforts to secure employment for students from business houses and residents of the city.

THE CARPENTER PRIZES FOR ELOCUTION

The Carpenter Prizes for Elocution, derived from the income of a fund established in 1867 by Thomas Carpenter, are awarded annually to the three members of the Sophomore class to whom are assigned, respectively, the first, the second, and the third rank of excellence in elocution. The selections declaimed may be either prose or verse. They must be approved by the Professor of Public Speaking, with whom competitors must enter their names not later than the first day of February. A preliminary contest for the purpose of selecting the speakers takes place in the latter part of the winter term; all arrangements for it are in the hands of the Professor of Public Speaking. The committee of award consists of five members—the Professor of Public Speaking, who is the chairman, two persons selected by the Corporation, and two persons selected by the Sophomore class during the first term of the year; no one who is or has been a member of the class is eligible. The contest for 1906 will be held in Manning Hall on May 8. In 1905 these prizes were awarded as follows:

In each instance the prize is given to the man showing the greatest ability both in the preliminary trials and in the final trial. In awarding the prize, regard is given to thought, style, and delivery. The judges are three, appointed by the Debating Union. In 1904-5 these prizes were awarded to

II. A first prize of thirty dollars and a second prize of twenty dollars to the students showing the greatest ability in a public debate between the representatives of the Junior and Sophomore classes. Each class is represented by three men, whom a committee appointed by the President of the University chooses from the preliminary contestants at least a month before the public debate. This committee also determines the subject and makes the necessary arrangements. The judges in the public debate are three, one appointed by the President, and one by each group of competitors. The prizes are awarded irrespective of the decision upon the debate as a whole. The first prize may be withheld if no one is adjudged to deserve it. In making the award, regard is given to thought, style, and delivery. In 1906 the public debate will be held on May 22. In 1905 prizes were awarded as follows:

A First Prize to HARRY DUANE BRUCE

A Second Prize to RALPH NORTON DENNETT

A Second Prize to ALLEN WILBUR MANCHESTER

The subject for discussion, the time, and the manner of presentation are all determined by representatives of the English department in consultation with the President of the Debating Union and the editors-in-chief of the Brunonian and the Brown Daily Herald. The prizes are awarded by a board of five judges: two are appointed by the President of the University, two by the Undergraduate members of the committee in charge; the fifth is a member of the English department.

In 1906 a first prize of fifty dollars and a second prize of twenty-five dollars will be awarded to the students who show the most ability in a public discussion of the topic chosen. This discussion will be held on February 6. A prize of twenty-five dollars will be awarded to the writer of the best argumentative essay of from three thousand to five thousand words upon the same subject. These essays, typewritten and signed with an assumed name, must be in the hands of the Registrar before 4 p. m., January 22. The prize for the essay may be withheld if no essay is deemed worthy. A student may compete for both prizes. For 1906 the subject chosen is: "Has the game of football as it has been played since 1900 been detrimental to the best interests of American colleges?"

THE MOHONK PRIZES

For 1905-6 Governor George H. Utter offers three prizes, to be known as the Mohonk Prizes. They are:

THE GASTON PRIZE MEDAL FOR EXCELLENCE IN ORATORY

From the income of a fund of three thousand dollars established in 1894 as a memorial to the Honorable William Gaston, LL.D., of the class of 1840, a gold medal is annually awarded to the member of the graduating class who delivers the best original oration in English. The orations are not to exceed fifteen hundred words. In order to compete for the prize a student must deposit with the Registrar a typewritten copy of his oration, signed with an assumed name, one month before the public competition. From these orations a committee appointed by the President of the University selects not more than six for delivery. The committee of award in the final contest consists of three members appointed by the President. In making the award regard is given to thought, style, and delivery. The winner of the medal is entitled to deliver an oration at Commencement. The competition in 1906 will be held on May 15. In 1905 this prize was awarded to

HOWARD RAYMOND HEYDON

APPOINTMENTS FOR COMMENCEMENT

At every commencement five members of the graduating class deliver original orations in English of not more than fifteen hundred words each. One speaker is the winner of the Gaston medal; the other four are selected by the Faculty from nominations by the heads of departments. The basis of selection is scholarship, ability to write, and ability to speak. The students thus appointed confer with the Professor of Rhetoric, who advises with them in regard to the choice and treatment of subjects, and with the Professor of Public Speaking, who trains them in the delivery of their orations. Before Commencement each speaker must hand to the Professor of Rhetoric a copy of his oration for preservation in the University Library. In 1905 the speakers appointed were:

ORGANIZATION OF THE WOMEN'S COLLEGE

INSTRUCTION for undergraduate women ‡ is provided by a department of the University known as THE WOMEN'S COLLEGE IN BROWN UNIVERSITY. The aim of The Women's College is to offer to all properly prepared women the same examinations, the same courses of study under the same teachers, and the same degrees that the University offers to men, but to preserve the distinct social life of a separate college.

The Corporation of the University assumes supervision and control of the Women's College as of other departments of the University, and for this purpose appoints annually an Executive Committee of the Women's College. The Corporation receives gifts of money to found scholarships, fellowships, and professorships in Brown University for the benefit of its women students, and for the general purposes of the Women's College, and holds and administers such funds as separate and distinct from the general funds of the University. All gifts, legacies, and bequests for the Women's College, like those meant for any other department of the University, should be made payable to "Brown University, in Providence, in the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations."

The President of the University is charged with the general direction, supervision, and government of this College as of other departments of the University. The immediate direction, supervision, and control is devolved, subject to the direction of the President, on the Dean of the Women's College. An Advisory Council, appointed under the authority of the Corporation, advises with the President and the Dean upon matters relating to the Women's College, and makes recommendations to the Executive Committee of the Women's College or to the Corporation.

The Faculty of the Women's College is composed of the heads of all departments of instruction in Brown University, together with all professors and instructors who are actually teaching in the College.

The Women's College has a recitation hall of its own, known as Pembroke Hall, situated a quarter of a mile from the other University buildings. It is named after Pembroke College, Cambridge, England, the college of Roger

‡ In the Graduate Department of Brown University all courses intended for Graduate students are open to women on the same terms as to men.

Williams. It is of red brick with stone and terra-cotta trimmings, after the English University style of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. The building is three stories high, and is fitted up with every convenience. On the first floor are the offices, a private room for the instructors, and three recitation rooms. On the second floor are two recitation rooms, a reception room, a study and library, and a magazine and reading room. The third floor is one large hall, with open-timbered roof and two large fireplaces. In the basement, which is light, dry, and airy, the students' lockers, baths, kitchen, and lunch-room are located. The resources of this building are supplemented by the various University libraries, laboratories, and museums.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The requirements for admission to the Women's College are the same as those which the University prescribes for men; and the entrance examinations for women are held at the same times and places and under the same conditions as those for men. In place of entrance examinations, certificates may be presented from duly authorized schools. For full information on all these points, see pages 41-53.

Students who do not wish to become candidates for a degree are allowed to register as special students on terms similar to those described on pages 51-3. Each applicant for registration as a special student must present to the Dean satisfactory evidence of her ability to pursue successfully the courses chosen. Every special student, unless excused by the Dean and by the professors in charge of her subjects, must take the regular examinations in those subjects.

DEGREES

The requirements for the various degrees are the same for women as for men. Information regarding these requirements may be found on pages 55-62. Upon students of the Women's College who complete satisfactorily the work leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Philosophy, or Bachelor of Science, the Corporation of the University confers the appropriate degree.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

In all the required studies classes are formed which are taught by the professors and instructors who have in charge the corresponding classes of men. The elective courses offered are identical in character with the corresponding courses offered to men. A list of those offered during the current year may be found in the Annual Announcement of the Women's College.

EXAMINATIONS AND REPORTS

As a rule, women take the same examinations as those offered to men, and at the same times and places. When a separate examination is necessary, the two examinations are made as nearly identical in character as possible. Reports of standing are given after all examinations.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

Two hours a week of physical training are required of first and second year students; for other students voluntary classes are held. Outdoor work under the supervision of the gymnasium instructor is accepted in place of gymnasium work during the spring and fall terms. At present the classes in physical training are held in Pembroke Hall, but a gymnasium is to be erected this year which will be equipped with all modern appliances. Upon entering college and again at the beginning of the Sophomore year, each student is given a careful examination both by the College Physician and by the Director of the Department.

DUES

Students at the Women's College pay the same dues as other students of the University. See pages 153-4. No deduction in tuition is made on account of absence. One-half of the tuition and of the incidental expenses is to be paid in advance. The remainder is due January 1. Laboratory expenses, etc., are to be paid two weeks before the close of a term.

Special students at the Women's College are charged $10 a term for each course holding three recitations a week. Laboratory charges are in addition to this.

DORMITORY ACCOMMODATIONS

The College owns one dormitory, the Slater Memorial Homestead, which contains six double rooms and nine single rooms. All the rooms are well furnished. Two of the single rooms, on the third floor, are very small, and for each of them and board the charge is $196.00 a year. For all the other single rooms and for half of each double room, together with board, the charge is $235.00 a year. One-third of the sum is payable at the beginning of each term. Laundry work is charged extra.

It is possible for students to obtain rooms very near the Slater Memorial Homestead and take their meals at the dormitory.

Desirable homes for students may also be obtained in private families. Lodgings, with or without board, may be secured on consultation with the Dean.

Each student renting a room in the dormitory must sign a contract therefor in the form given below, on which surety may be demanded, binding her to pay or cause to be paid the rent of the room through the entire year. Where two students rent a room together, each must sign a contract for half the room expenses. This obligation is not impaired by the student's removal from the College, whatever the cause of such removal. The form of contract is given below.

The following is a contract between the Women's College in Brown University, party of the first part, and the undersigned, party of the second part. I hereby engage room No. _____ in Slater Memorial Homestead; the same not to be occupied by any other person without consent of the party of the first part, and I bind myself to pay or cause to be paid to the Dean of the Women's College in

It is a part of this agreement that I shall be held responsible for all damage or defacement of such room or its furniture, ordinary wear excepted; also that disuse of the room by me on account of illness, or in case registration is refused me owing to low standing or bad conduct, does not impair the obligation of this contract.

THE BROWN UNIVERSITY TEACHERS' BUREAU

THE Brown University Teachers' Bureau has been established for the purpose of communicating with institutions desiring to employ graduates of Brown as teachers. To this end it solicits correspondence with those who are seeking well equipped teachers, and invites inspection of the list of such teachers now registered. It advises graduates of Brown who wish its assistance to register at once, and, if possible, to meet the Secretary in a personal interview. It offers to undergraduates information as to subjects in which there is a demand for teachers, as to positions commonly open to recent graduates, and as to the preparation usually required. No charge for the services of the Bureau is made either to students or to schools. It is the further purpose of the Bureau to foster coöperation between the University and all graduates engaged in the work of education. As far as possible an accurate register of the addresses and the positions of all such graduates is kept. The office of the Secretary, Professor WALTER BALLOU JACOBS, is in the Administration Building, Room 10.

THE BROWN UNIVERSITY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Brown University Teachers' Association was organized in 1903. The purpose of the Association is "first, to further the mutual interests of Brown University and the schools preparing students therefor; and second, to promote the welfare of the Alumni of the University who are teachers."

The third annual meeting of the Association was held in Manning Hall on Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4, 1905. The general subject for discussion was "Classical Studies."
